

Faculty of Education Postgraduate Conference
for all Masters and Doctoral students

Professional Identity and Professional Development: Emerging themes from research

The conference will focus on professional identity and professional development within a rapidly changing policy landscape. The morning's programme will explore emerging themes from research undertaken by both academic researchers and teacher practitioners.

The conference will be highly interactive, including two keynote addresses and parallel sessions where research papers will be presented in smaller groups to enable critical discussion, comparison of experiences and consideration of the implications of research findings for our practice.

Saturday 11 June 2011

10.00 am - 1.00 pm

(refreshments from 9.30am)

Rowan Williams Court, Medway Campus
