LEARNING & TEACHING

#CCCPiL18

LEARNING AND TEACHING CONFERENCE 2018

9.00—9.30	Registration and Refreshments	Powell Foyer
9.30—9.45	Welcome and introductions: Professor Helen James, Pro Vice-Chancellor, Education and Student Experience	Powell Lecture Theatre, Pg09
9.45—10.45	Keynote: 'Why working in partnership is the right thing to do' - Professor Colin Bryson, Newcastle University, founder & Chair of the RAISE Network	Powell Lecture Theatre, Pg09
10.45- 11.10	Refreshments and biscuits	Powell Foyer
11.15-12.15	Parallel Sessions	Various breakout rooms
Presentations 30 mins each	• Students working in partnership with the local police to help make Canterbury a safer place for our students and residents. Jane Owens, Policing students and Police officers • Glamping site at Leeds Castle – using 'task and finish' partnership projects to refresh the parts of the student experience that no other projects can reach! Marion Stuart-Hoyle and 3 MSc Tourism and Event Management Students
Round Table Discussions 30 mins each	• Can we really be partners? Learning from Foundation year students. Dr Martin Watts and former foundation year student now studying L4 • The lecture is dead. Long live the lecture! Passive versus Active Learning Rayya Ghul and students
Interactive Workshops 1 hr	• Defining, identifying and documenting employability skills in partnership with students—Anne Nortcliffe, Chiara Hewer, current students and a graduate
	• How bad are bananas?: A journey in partnership with the Student Green Office —Student Green Office students and Felicity Bramling-Wells
	• Co-constructing learning conversations with Animoto - Tom Delahunt and students
12.15—12.45	Plenary / Panel questions Colin Bryson, Alison Eyden, Krum Tashev & Peter Joyce	Powell Lecture Theatre, Pg09
12.45—13.00	Close of Conference	Powell Lecture Theatre, Pg09
13.00—14.00	Student Reps Networking Event	