MSC PSYCHOLOGY (CONVERSION COURSE) SPECIAL REGULATIONS

INTRODUCTION

1. These special regulations relate to the following programme that resides within the Regulations for Conferment of Awards:

    - MSc Psychology (Conversion Course)

SPECIAL REGULATIONS

2. In line with criteria specified in the British Psychological Society Standards for the Accreditation of Undergraduate, Conversion and Integrated Masters Programmes, in order to obtain a BPS-accredited degree conferring the Graduate Basis for Chartered membership (GBC), students must:

    (a) obtain a class 2(ii) degree, or above or its equivalent (i.e. an overall pass of at least 50% or above);

    (b) take and pass (without compensation) the 40-credit Level 7 module entitled 'Research Project'.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

3. In line with the British Psychological Society Standards for the Accreditation of Undergraduate, Conversion and Integrated Masters Programmes, in order to obtain a BPS-accredited degree conferring the Graduate Basis for Chartered membership (GBC), where a student has transferred into the programme from another programme, the following criteria apply to the recognition of prior learning:

    (a) recognition of prior learning is limited to a maximum of 60 credits.

    (b) recognition of prior experiential (or informal) learning is not permitted.

Approved by Academic Board, 26 October 2020.