

Your Fees Your Responsibilities

Home and EU Students: Student Tuition Fees: Payment and Debt Arrangements 2015/16

Helping you with every step.

Introduction

This document contains important information about your tuition fees, when they become due, how they should be paid, and what to do if you have trouble paying your tuition fees. It should help you understand:

- How to pay for your tuition fees for the whole academic year.
- Terms and conditions relating to payment of your tuition fees, tuition fee debts and any sanctions that may be applied.
- What to do if you have difficulties in paying your tuition fees, or if you decide to withdraw or interrupt from your studies.
- The process to follow if you wish to submit a complaint or appeal in relation to these arrangements.

This document is relevant to you as a student, regardless of whether your tuition fees are being paid by a loan from the Student Loans Company, whether you are paying them yourself, or a Sponsor is paying them on your behalf.

If you have applied for a tuition fee loan to pay for your tuition fees, the Student Loans Company will pay them directly to the University on your behalf.

If you are paying your tuition fees yourself, or a sponsor is paying them on your behalf, the University provides an online payment system which is an easy, flexible method to enable you to pay by debit or credit card. Paying online is the preferred payment method and we assure you that all information is held in a secure and safe environment.

If you are having problems paying your tuition fees, you should let us know as soon as possible. The University will be sympathetic and assist where it can. However, in order to maintain quality of teaching and to ensure fairness of treatment for everyone else, the University must act to recover any debts.

How to pay your tuition fees

When should I pay?

As a student of the University, you are responsible for the payment of your tuition fees for each year of your programme, regardless of how you are funding and paying for your tuition fees.

Tuition fees become due on the first day of study and before commencing study at the University you must either:

- pay in full, or
- have in place an arrangement to pay (either via a loan from the Student Loans Company, via a self-payment plan, or via a payment plan from your Sponsor).

How should I pay?

If you are paying for your tuition fees yourself:

If you are paying your tuition fees yourself, payments can be made by any of the following options:

|---|
| - Payment in full |
| - 3 termly instalments payable at the end of September, January and April. |
| - 8 monthly instalments payable at the end of September through to April. |

The payment link is: <https://payments.canterbury.ac.uk>

The University accepts Visa and MasterCard debit and credit card payments.

If you are starting your course during term 2 or term 3 of the academic year, then the above payment terms will be adjusted accordingly. However, your full annual tuition fee must be paid at least 2 months before the end of your course, or at least 2 months before the end of the period of study for which you have been invoiced.

If you are paying for your tuition fees via a Student Loan:

If you have applied for a tuition fee loan and have received confirmation of that loan from the Student Loans Company, then the University will be paid directly by the Student Loans Company, usually in termly instalments.

If you have applied for a tuition fee loan but have not yet received confirmation of that loan from the Student Loans Company, then you should contact the Finance Department at the University to let us know. You should note that if you have not received confirmation of your tuition fee loan within 3 months of starting your course, you may be invoiced directly and be required to set up a self-payment plan whilst you are waiting for your loan to be approved.

If you are paying for your tuition fees via a Sponsor:

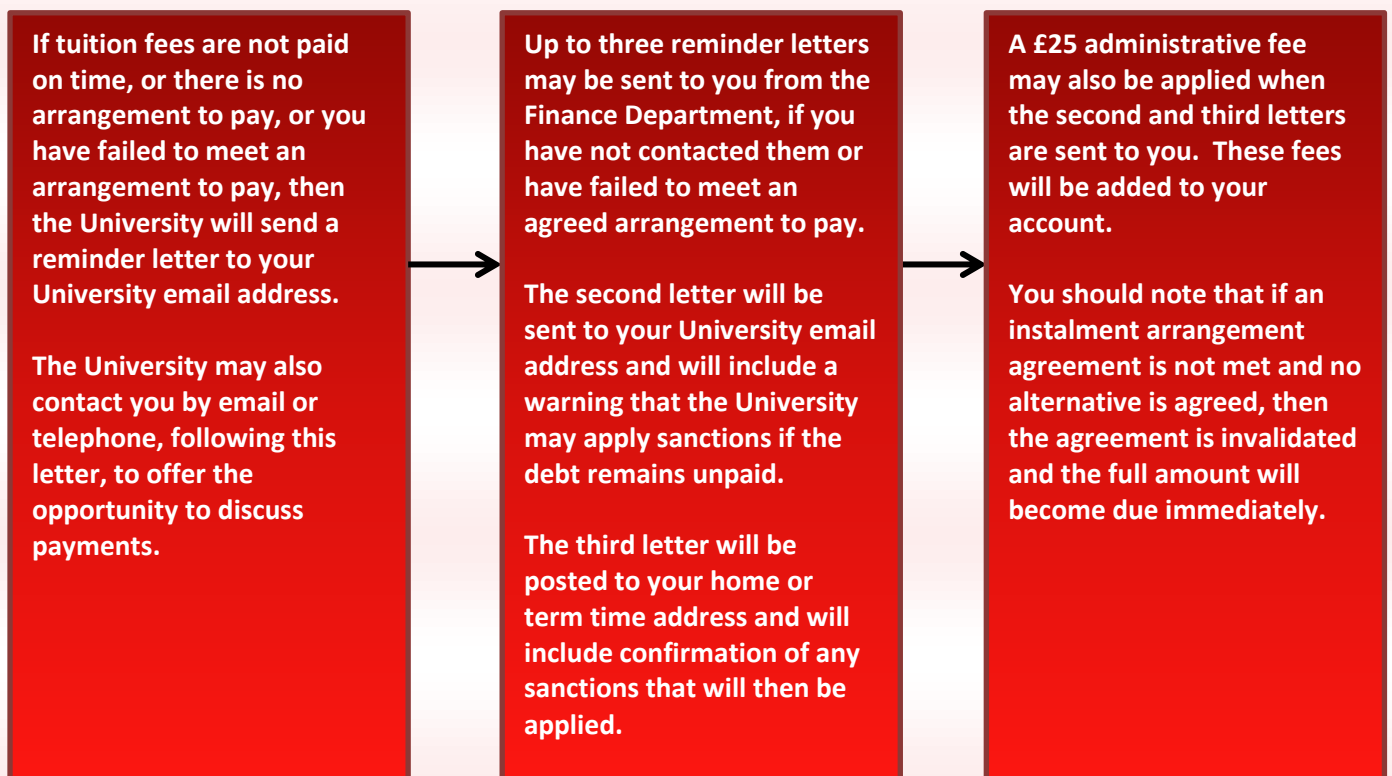

You must notify the Finance department and provide details of your Sponsor's name and address. This information should be provided during the online registration process. The University will then invoice the Sponsor directly for your tuition fees.

However, you should note that any arrangement made between you and a Sponsor to pay your tuition fees is an agreement between you and the Sponsor. If the tuition fees should remain unpaid by the Sponsor, the University will then invoice you directly and you will be required to set up a self-payment plan.

What happens if you have trouble paying your fees

If you have trouble paying your fees then you should contact the Finance department as soon as possible and we will try our best to help you.

What happens if my payment is late?

What are the sanctions?

Sanctions may include:

- Withdrawal of University IT and Library facilities.
- Students with outstanding tuition fees may not be able to progress from one year of study to another, and the University will not normally confer an award or allow a student to attend a graduation or award ceremony if tuition fees are outstanding on completion.
- Students who leave the University with an outstanding tuition fee debt will not normally be eligible for re-admission to any other programme offered by the University unless the outstanding debt is paid.
- The University may ultimately require a student to withdraw or interrupt from the programme of study.
- The University reserves the right to place outstanding debts into the hands of a debt collection agency and to take action through the Courts. Debt recovery fees will be charged to the student as appropriate.

If you are experiencing financial difficulties and make contact with the University, you will be referred to the relevant member of staff, and they will try to help you.

Withdrawing From Or Interrupting Your Programme

The University recognises the investment that students are making in their higher education and appreciates that there are times when, with good reason, some students may choose to withdraw early or interrupt from their studies. It is extremely important that you make any decision on withdrawal or interruption in a timely fashion so as to avoid incurring any unnecessary fee debt. At the same time, deciding to withdraw early or interrupt is a major decision with potentially far-reaching consequences for your future personal development, as well as career and employment aspirations.

Seek advice before deciding to interrupt or withdraw early

This is not a decision that you should take in haste, nor without proper discussion with your academic tutors and central professional services staff, as well as with your family if necessary. We would strongly advise you to consider this before following the necessary procedures to formally seek to interrupt or withdraw from the University, so that you can be offered appropriate advice and guidance.

If you do then decide that you wish to interrupt or withdraw from your studies prior to the stated programme end date you must then follow the proper withdrawal procedure, as follows:

What you must do if you want to interrupt or withdraw

If you wish to interrupt or withdraw early, you MUST act in a timely fashion and follow the correct University procedures if you are to ensure that you are liable for the correct amount of tuition fees for your studies. To help in this process, and to ensure you make the correct informed decisions, the following guidance is provided:

Failure to follow the instructions below may affect the amount of tuition fee liability you could incur.

- 1. If you are considering interrupting or withdrawing early from your studies, you are advised to first consider your options in discussion with your programme staff, and discuss the financial implications of any decision you make with the Student Support, Health & Wellbeing Team (www.canterbury.ac.uk/student-support-health-and-wellbeing). If you are in University accommodation, you will also need advice from the Accommodation team on negotiating a release from your licence agreement. You may also wish to seek advice from the Career Development team (www.canterbury.ac.uk/career-development). All of these services are contactable by email via the i-zone (i-zone@canterbury.ac.uk).
- 2. If you do decide to go ahead then you MUST complete in advance of your withdrawal/interruption a Change of Academic Circumstances (CoAC) Form. This form is available to complete online via your University CLIC account.
- 3. When you have completed your sections of the form, you MUST submit it online.

Please note that the date you submit your form online will be regarded as the date of your withdrawal for the purposes of fee liability (unless you are giving notice of your intention to withdraw at a future date); any variation to this arrangement will need the approval of the Academic Registrar.

What Happens Next

Once the Registry receives the fully completed CoAC Form the following will happen:

- 1. The Registry will update your University record to show your interruption/withdrawal with effect from either the future date you indicate on your form, or the submission date of your request.
- 2. The Registry will send you formal confirmation of your interruption/withdrawal.
- 3. The University's Finance Department will calculate the tuition fees you owe according to the interruption/withdrawal date shown on your record.
- 4. If you are SLC funded, the Registry will inform the SLC of your interruption/withdrawal, together with the date of leaving and details of any change of fee liability.

Your Tuition Fee Liability

Once you have decided that you wish to interrupt or withdraw from your studies prior to the stated programme end date, then the following fee liability applies:

In Term 1:

If you are a new student and you interrupt/withdraw within the first two weeks of your Course/Programme's term start date, which can be found via the link below, then the University waives the tuition fees and you are not liable for any tuition fee (loan) debt.

Term dates are available at: www.canterbury.ac.uk/support/student-support-and-guidance/term-dates/

If you are a new student and you interrupt/withdraw after two weeks from your Course/Programme's term start date, then you are liable for 25% of the annual tuition fee amount, which will be paid to the University by the Student Loans Company (SLC) for SLC-funded students or which will otherwise be a debt that you personally accrue (e.g. if you are self-funding).

If you are a continuing student and you interrupt/withdraw at any point in Term 1, then you are liable for 25% of the annual tuition fee amount, which will be paid to the University by the Student Loans Company (SLC) for SLC-funded students or which will otherwise be a debt that you personally accrue (e.g. if you are self-funding).

In Term 2:

If you are either a new student or a continuing student and you interrupt/withdraw at any point in Term 2, then you are liable for 50% of the annual tuition fee amount, which will be paid to the University by the SLC for SLC-funded students or which will otherwise be a debt that you personally accrue (e.g. if you are self-funding).

In Term 3:

If you are either a new student or a continuing student and you interrupt/withdraw at any point in Term 3, then you are liable for 100% of the annual tuition fee amount, which will be paid to the University by the SLC for SLC-funded students or which will otherwise be a debt that you personally accrue (e.g. if you are self-funding).

NB If you have a loan with the SLC, you should note that the SLC will use the date of interruption/withdrawal to reassess your entitlement to loans/grants. A new notification letter will be sent to you by the SLC once the reassessment has taken place.

Complaints and Appeals Process

This section sets out the complaints and appeals process relating to the University's procedures in relation to student debt. It is based on the principles set out in the University Framework for Student Procedures.

At the completion of each stage in the procedures where there is written communication, you will be advised in writing of the means by which you may take the matter further.

Outline of the Appeals Process

Informal Stage

Wherever possible, the University will seek to resolve any difficulties informally, at the level at which the matter arose. In relation to the student debt procedures, you should start by discussing anything relating to the procedures with the Finance Department.

If the issue cannot be resolved informally, you may ask for a formal investigation to be conducted by the Director of Finance or his nominee.

Formal Investigation Stage - you will need to send a letter/ email and:

1. Explain the problem you are having in relation to the student debt procedures
2. Suggest how you think the problem could be solved (however, the outcome may be different from your suggestion).
3. Include the appropriate evidence, where possible.

If you are not satisfied with the outcome of the formal investigation, you may request within twenty working days of receiving the written response from the Director of Finance or his nominee, a review of the findings of the investigation to be undertaken by the Vice Chancellor or his nominee.

Review Stage - you will need to send a request in the form of a letter/ email and attach a copy of any correspondence received

Where the decision does not entail termination or interruption of a programme of study, you will receive an acknowledgement from the Vice Chancellor's nominee with an indication of the date when a decision will be made. The Vice Chancellor's nominee will make a judgement on the subject matter of the request, which may be either to confirm, reduce, set aside, amend or otherwise vary the decision of the Director of Finance.

Where the decision entails termination or interruption of a programme of study, the Vice Chancellor's nominee will conduct the review as soon as practicable after the receipt of the request.

- You may be interviewed and you may be accompanied by a friend who may be a fellow student of the University, a member of the Students' Union or a member of staff, and may speak on your behalf.

- The Vice Chancellor's nominee has the discretion to interview any member of the University staff involved at an earlier stage in the proceedings.
- Following the review, the Vice Chancellor's nominee may confirm, reduce, set aside, amend or otherwise vary the decision of the Director of Finance.

Once the Vice Chancellor's nominee has determined the appeal, the student may make a request to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator for Higher Education (OIA) for independent adjudication. It is not possible to refer the matter to the OIA until the completion of the process by the Vice Chancellor's nominee. The arrangements for making a request to the OIA will be provided in a separate letter from the Clerk to the Governing Body once the University's procedures have been completed.

Arrangements for the termination or interruption of a student's study

In all cases, where a decision requires the termination or interruption of a programme of study, the decision will be referred to the Vice Chancellor's nominee for confirmation. You will not be required to interrupt whilst an appeal is outstanding.
