

Journals

The Journal of Education and Christian Belief (UK)

The premier international journal concerned with current educational thinking from a Christian perspective, providing a forum for scholars from across the world to publish work offering Christian reflection on education. The journal is published jointly by the Kuyers Institute at Calvin College, USA, The Stapleford Centre, UK, and the Association of Christian Teachers in England.

The aim of the journal is to address issues relating to all aspects of formal education including the public system and Christian educational institutions.

The Journal of Research on Christian Education (USA)

The Journal of Research on Christian Education (JRCE) provides a vehicle for the scholarly interchange of research findings relative to every level of Christian education. Particular emphasis is given to Christian schooling within the Protestant tradition as well as to research findings from other traditions which have implications for such schools.

The purposes of the JRCE are: to stimulate inquiry among scholars of Christian education on topics of common interest; to serve as a clearing house for the organization and diffusion of emerging research on the Christian school; and to communicate research findings that inform Christian educators as well as the wider society.

Published by Routledge, the journal is produced by Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan, USA

Journal of Christian Education (Australasia)

The Journal of Christian Education seeks to relate the Christian faith to all aspects of education at all levels in public, independent and faith-based schools, universities and colleges, and church and community settings.

The purpose of this international journal is to consider the implications of the Christian faith for the entire field of education and to examine its contribution, particularly to educational policy making, leadership, teaching and learning, curriculum and resources, and teacher development. The journal is published by the Australian Forum for Christian Education.

Journal of International Studies in Catholic Education (UK)

The Journal of International Studies in Catholic Education aims to provide an international forum for articles of a theological, philosophical, historical and social scientific nature, as well as empirical research perspectives on Catholic education.

The scope of the Journal includes articles focused at both a general theoretical level, as well as a specific focus level, relating to the various forms of Catholic education, eg. elementary/primary, secondary, higher education, adult education, community and parish-based education and seminary education.

Published by Routledge, it is a publication of the Centre for Research and Development in Catholic Education (CRDCE) at the Institute of Education, London University.
