

The Canterbury Centre for Policing Research is delighted to be able to welcome Jonathan Opaye-Tatteh to deliver a lecture on

Diversity in Policing

22 Sep 2023, 5.15-7pm | Lgl16, Lecture Theatre

Jonathan is currently the Head of Equity and Inclusion at Canterbury Christ Church University following a very busy career in the police. He spent five years in the Metropolitan Police Service followed by two years in Sussex Police, working in various investigative and frontline roles, reaching the rank of Sergeant. Throughout his career, he was involved in a number of transformative projects and started developing his expertise in promoting change through the equity and inclusion lens. His talk will therefore explore improving trust in policing and the role you can play.

To book and for further information, visit:
canterbury.ac.uk/ccpr

Canterbury
Centre for Policing Research

Canterbury
Christ Church
University