

MSc by Research Faculty of Social and Applied Sciences

www.canterbury.ac.uk/pg/sas

FACT FILE:

- 40 credits of taught modules and 140 credits for research
- One year full-time, two years part-time
- Starts September
- A minimum of a 2.1 honours degree is required. Applications from students with less than a 2.1 will only be considered if appropriate experiential learning can be demonstrated.

This course offers a range of pathways within the Faculty's established research subject areas.

You'll follow a course of advanced study and research under the guidance of dedicated academic tutors and supervisors who are experts in their field.

For fees information, go to: www.canterbury.ac.uk/pg/fees

THE PATHWAYS ARE:

Applied Health and Fitness
Applied Psychology
Biosciences
Cartography and Infographics
Computing
Criminal Justice
Criminology
Digital Forensics and Cybersecurity
Ecology
Environmental Geography
Events
Forensic Investigation
Geospatial Analysis
Human Geography
Law
Leisure
Policing
Politics and International Relations
Psychology
Sociology
Sport and Exercise Science
Sport and Exercise Psychology
Sport Policy and Development
Tourism
Urban and Regional Studies

For more information about the course or to submit your Expression of Interest form, contact Programme Director, Dr Dan Donoghue daniel.donoghue@canterbury.ac.uk or Programme Administrator, Jaimie Morris jaimie.morris@canterbury.ac.uk